

In 'Great Expectations' the fact that the reader knows that Miss Havisham doesn't intend for Pip to marry Estella when Pip thinks she does is an example of dramatic _____.