

What is 'clouds sweep like opening curtains' an example of in the short story 'Compass and Torch'?